North Central Association Evaluates Our School, 1969

Reasoning ability—public interest—involvement with students—dedication—school spirit—Mr. C. W. Huffman. What would the school be like without a principal, who is truly interested in the "General Ideas." Mr. Huffman has been at our school for twelve years now. Through these years he has become aware of the things that make a school interesting, as well as educational.

Every seven years the North Central Accrediting Association evaluates our school to see if the facilities, curriculum and staff fill the requirements, set up by colleges across the country. The committee completed its evaluation of our school November 17.

Students Hold An Admiration For Two New Vice Principals

Two new faces in the executive department this year are vice-principals, Mr. John Moore, and Mr. Harold Meredith.

Mr. Moore performs any disciplinary measures that are required. Calling on his past experience as a counselor and teacher, he is capable of listening to and dealing with students' gripes. As students soon discover, he is not always a symbol of correction, but often an understanding adult, who is always willing to "lend a shoulder."

Maintaining our high standards of instructional media quality, is the responsibility Mr. Harold Meredith has adapted to very effectively. Along with numerous other time-consuming activities, such as checking boys' hair length, and "suggesting" they visit the barber, he spends many busy hours in developing and organizing a smooth-running intramural athletic program for both boys and girls.

We should have a great deal of admiration for these two men; not only for adapting to these new and different positions so efficiently, but for doing so much to promote the General Spirit.

Board Of Education Responsible For Quality Education

The Oklahoma City School Board has the responsibility of seeing that all students have an equal opportunity to receive an education, that will enable them to cope with life and its problems, today and tomorrow. Cooperating with other educational organizations, the school board members strive to keep the democratic principles and standards alive.

Three men and two women counselors busy themselves at the task of scheduling classes for the entire student body. Such matters as girls whose dresses do not comply with school policy, and boys, who need a haircut, are frequently found being cured at the counselors' offices.

Advice on college entrance requirements, and the choice of colleges, to suit ones individual needs, is given to interested juniors and seniors.

Frequent Absences Investigated By Attendance Clerks

The attendance clerks, Mrs. Barbara Mize, Mrs. Lois Cloudis, and Mrs. Betty Cook, could be excellent investigators, or so is said by many students. These women are responsible for admitting late-coming students to class, and recording the reason for tardiness.

Students are seen waiting in line, as they explain their need to check in or out, and often times are seen calling their parents to verify their stories of woe. Many telephone calls come to the school concerning the absence of students, and it is the secretaries job to sort out the calls as "for real" or phony."

A visit with Mr. John Moore is necessary at times when records show that a student has been absent too frequently.

Librarians Spend Long Hours Developing New Visual Aids

Mrs. Mildred Patterson, head librarian, Mrs. Galen Calhoun, clerk, and Mrs. Ann Turner, assistant librarian, are spending long hours in developing a new area in visual aids in our library. Mrs. Patterson explained the trend by saying, "It's been our experience that all students do not learn by reading. Visual aids such as film strips, slides, and charts will perhaps assist those who can't."

The P.T.S.A. conducted a bake sale at Open House to help raise money for four scholarships that are to be awarded to deserving students. This organization is always searching for ways to assist needy students and one media is the Students' Aid Program. The purpose of P.T.S.A.? To promote better understanding between parents, teachers and the students.

Nurse Bradley Administers First Aide To Miner Mishaps

Miss Bea Bradley, the school nurse administers first aide to students with such tragic physical mishaps as scrapes, cuts, and skinned knees. Students must go to the clinic and call their parents before checking out of school due to illness. Often, a brief rest in the clinic will make a student feel well enough to stay at school for the remainder of the day.

The ladies who "man" the cafeteria arrive at school early each morning and begin preparing lunches. The work seems never-ending at times, for when one lunch hour is served and out of the way, another of the three is standing in line.

The custodians are an aide to the entire student body. Besides keeping the building and grounds clean, they unlock doors for forgetful students to claim lost possessions.

Creative Thought Inspired By Discussion Of Literature

"You all know the story of . . .," is a common sentence uttered by Mr. Gary Watson, senior English teacher, as his students listen wonderingly, with their jaws dropped to the floor, in question. Many seniors wish they had studied more about English Literature, when they find themselves discussing the "classics" of Macbeth, and other related plays.

Mrs. Christine Baugh's senior English classes are assigned term papers which are composed of many hours of research and creative thought.

Juniors in Miss Penni Ellis' classes encounter modern poetry in music as they listen to albums by Rod Serling. Attempting to find hidden meaning proves to be quite difficult, when the subject matter of Serling's album is a "cat."

Great Books discussion group deals with problems plaguing people since the beginning of time. The issues to be discussed are taken from classical literature and provide a challenge as students relate yesterday's troubles today and tomorrow.

English Strives For New Literature Enjoyment

To enlighten students beyond the everyday grind of things seems to be a major objective of the English Department.

In Mr. C. D. Chase's classes, students are introduced to poetry, short stories and scriptures from the Bible, in addition to vocabulary and grammar.

American Literature dominates the class of Mrs. Peggy Pitt. Juniors study the other side of history that went hand-in-hand with the lives of historical figures; that of literature. The study of its development through such men as Patrick Henry, Thomas Jefferson, and Benjamin Franklin gives literature a new light.

Seniors are prepared for studies to be encountered in college. They are given background in English Literature beginning with early Greek Tragedy such as Antigone and advance onward to modern European plays with the Sea Gull.

Drama, Languages, Publications Add Interest

"Do you kids realize we have only two weeks left?" This plea is shouted constantly in Drama by Mrs. Jane Thompson as contest time draws near for the "Scarecrow." This year rehearsals for plays and practice for speech contest began early as regional and state competition drew near.

The advanced French classes broke from the routine by visiting Stillwater, Oklahoma, to see a play presented by an all-French touring company. The Latin classes find their entertainment in a different way. They study such stories as Peanuts, and Superman, and then settle down to more serious study in the "Nature of Atoms."

The busiest department in the school is that of Publications. Newspaper staffs meet deadlines every two weeks whereas yearbook strives to beat their deadlines every few months. A lot of hard work is involved in producing an excellent newspaper and yearbook. The students realize this and keep on trying, for they want their publications to be the best today, and tomorrow.

History Classes Work To Show Unpolished Facts

Taking notes, watching T.V. and studying for tests are daily occurrences in American History classes, but not the things which are remembered. The history of the United States; the interesting facts of the lives of great and small Americans is what the students learn and recall afterward. The teachers attempt to present history as it really took place, without the polish and haze acquired by the passage of time. Students do find themselves taking a role in the past sometimes, which does make the course more exciting.

Government Classes Set Up "Mock Legislature"

World History is another class that deals with things past and present but on a wider scope. This course provides the student with the opportunity to explore and better understand the dealings of his complex world.

During first semester the students in Mrs. Jeanne Rippee's government classes learn the "how" about government procedure. Then in second semester, they form a "mock legislature" to gain first hand knowledge about the duties and responsibilities of the voter and the governing body.

The Sociology and Psychology classes are greatly beneficial to seniors about to enter a new and strange world. Students discuss and view films on such controversial subjects as teenage marriages, prejudice and social disease. Relating to others and attempting to understand human problems are vital lessons to citizens of tomorrow.

Intent Math Students Search For Solutions

To be understanding in all things, to be a willing teacher at all times, and to encourage others in all situations are the uplifting tasks of Mrs. Pauline Novey and the special education program. The students are given tests to determine the grade level to which they have progressed and could be taught. Then they are guided at a checked pace to insure sound and effective training.

Math classes are found having heated discussions at times when one of the students does not agree with one of the theorems or formulas that the teacher has presented. The statement, "Oh, now I understand," has been heard a hundred times if not more. Mrs. Helen Ray's Math Analysis course provides the opportunity for math-interested students to get much of the background and understanding of the mathematics world that they will use in college and the future.

Business Courses Give Students "Jump" On Jobs

Learning to adapt themselves to today's complex business world and its many problems are the advantages gained by business students. In Business Law and Economics, they are taught the fundamentals of contracts and the rights of minors. Budgeting, life insurance details, income tax forms and advertising effects are subjects explored in Consumer Economics. Students are familiarized with the operation of the latest machines used in business offices and firms. Mr. Al Fuller's bookkeeping classes learn to write checks and keep official records in addition to depositing checks and withdrawing money.

Shorthand and typing enable the students to establish a faster means of communication to aid them in their business in the future.

Science Students Find Experiments Fascinating

Anyone who walks into the Biology classes this year becomes entangled in the world of plant division. The students become devoted guardians to the planeria that they section into parts, as they check them daily for growth, bacteria, and other basic characteristics. The dangers of cigarette smoking, evolution of men, and animal classifications are some of the other subjects the classes delve into.

Chemistry classes are often seen in the labs working with a "guess what solution I am" chemical. The acidity of certain bases is common talk between the bewildered students, striving for a good grade. Lecture notes are kept in a notebook for future use and for test reference which Mr. Craig Miller and Mr. Clifton Ogle seem always faithful about giving.

The students from both classes are eligible to enter projects in the science fair. Mr. Ogle gives his classes ten per cent of their grade as extra credit for participating in the fair. The science seminar class studies organic chemistry and usually enters projects dealing with such.

Safety Practices A Must For Drivers Education

A unique type of student is usually enrolled in Drivers Education; one who is excited about "finally being able to drive." Mr. Earnest Daniel's classes are found in the classrooms, and in cars, actually out on the road. Many films on highway safety appear on the screen in the classroom and do an excellent job of encouraging the students to drive defensively.

Another of the favorite classes is Foods. Mrs. Treva Baker's classes are known throughout the school by hungry friends who wish to sample the cooking. Indirectly related to the Foods classes are the Clothing classes. The girls sew many of the clothes that they wear to school and in doing so cause other girls to envy their wardrobe. Both of these classes, Foods and Clothing, aid the "future homemakers" in being ready for tomorrow.

BELOW: Thinking about all of the future drivers he is teaching is Mr. Jim Owens. FAR BELOW: Mr. Herman Williams attaches the drivers education sign to the car. LEFT: Mr. Ernest Daniels assures Debbie Heron that she is only driving a Driver Trainer. ABOVE CENTER LEFT: Zelda Gentry makes sure that her cookies will turn out delicious with the help of Mrs. Treva Baker. LOWER CENTER LEFT: Checking to see if there are any flaws in the material is Mrs. Francis Finley. FAR LEFT: All involved in the Grant vs. Del City football game is Mrs. Carol Rains.

Vocational Training Enhances Job Proficiency

The Vocational Education offered at school this year is outstanding indeed. Like many of the other courses offered to students, these aim toward preparing the pupils for their future bread-winning employment. Auto Mechanics and Body and Fender teach the boys just about everything they need to know about operating and fixing their vehicles or repairing the paint job, etc. Mr. David Morava's classes find enjoyment at times in giving the cars a new coat of paint, and sometimes even in painting each other.

Cosmetology's goals are quite different from any of the other Vocational subjects. The girls are quite careful as they produce a new hairdo for their patrons. Around prom time, all of the girls become very busy as appointments come in from right and left. The work is tedious and complex at times but the girls are enthused when it is completed for each new hair style adds to the hours toward their State Board Examination.

All-State Choir And Mr. Ballew Synonymous

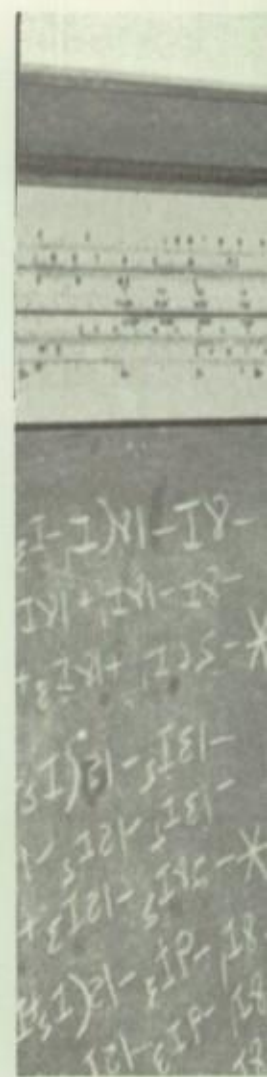

One of the most active departments this year is that of music. Tryouts began very early in the year for the musical, "Ruth." It was presented by a partial alumni cast during the month of October, then because of its popularity, two extra performances were given at Thanksgiving. During the second week of November, tryouts were held for the All-State Choir. The choir participated in district and state contests later in the year. During the Christmas Holiday, the choir performed at Shephard Mall to entertain shoppers, and later appeared on WKY television station.

To train students to care for their bodies as well as their minds is the job of the gym classes. Students are required to exercise and shower daily to equip themselves for a healthy life. Students in Miss Lois Sughru's girl's gym class are taught to strive and work together in the team sports of table tennis, badminton, volleyball, basketball, and baseball.

Hammers, Saws, Presses Add Industrial Skills

Mr. George Ross and Mr. Jim Thompson start early in their Industrial Arts classes to provide woodwork, photography and printing for the school. The woodwork classes made bookshelves for the restrooms and the printing classes printed many posters, booklets and other helpful materials in an effort to aid the school organizations.

"If any classes are a sight to see, it is the Technical Education classes for sure," states Mr. Ross. Many drafts are drawn for the "dreamhouses" of the boys. Some of the guys find, when Mr. Robert Steele checks their plans for a grade, that their houses would fall if actually built. Perhaps this is due to speedy planning.

Mr. Keith Dowdell and his students are seen rushing around the building fairly often as they run to rescue some of the teachers from mechanical difficulty in the school's audio visual machines. The students are trained to run all of the equipment used in the classrooms and are always available to operate the projectors and slide machines if needed.

CLUBS

Never one thing and seldom one person can make for a success.
It takes a number of them merging into one perfect whole.

Marie Dresseer

Hospitals, Nursing Homes Aided By Community Service

Our Red Cross changed its name this year to "Community Services." Now, it is able to help such agencies as United Cerebral Palsy, hospitals and nursing homes. The change was made through Student Council.

Pencil holders and wastepaper baskets are made by club members and sold to raise money for Christmas projects. Candles are given to hospitals and nursing homes as Christmas gifts. Decorations, made by members, are given to churches to help promote the X-mas spirit. Bringing an end to all of the holiday preparations, Community Service held a Christmas party at the school with caroling afterwards.

County Council of Red Cross is held once a month at the county headquarters. At these meetings the members of Red Cross from the county plan projects which aid such crisis areas as flood victims and soldiers serving in Viet Nam.

Safety Council Perfects The Fire Drill Routes

"Oh no, I might burn up!" "Help, help, my books may be destroyed!" These are only a few of the many humorous remarks made during the fire drills. What would the students say if the school really was burning?

The Safety Council, which plans the route of exit for fire drills, also studies the attitudes of the students during the drills. Maps are made for every room in the building, showing the departure route for the students and faculty.

Safety Council members participate in the televised safety contest to win recognition for the school. These contests and others like them help publicize the need for caution and safety measures.

The problem of students speeding in the parking lots is a big concern of the Safety Council. Also they work on preventive measures for pedestrian and car accidents.

Mr. Herman Williams, drivers education teacher sponsors the club. He and the members boost "daily caution."

"Will everyone please stand for the Pledge of Allegiance and remain standing for the devotional?" Thus begins a typical Student Council meeting on an early Wednesday morning before school. The words are those of Debi Bynum, president, who conducts the club meetings.

The club's goal is to bring the wishes of the students closer to the ears of the administration. This is accomplished by homeroom suggestions that are brought to the meetings through representatives, discussed and taken to the proper quarters for action.

To welcome new teachers and generally start things off on a good foot are the reasons for the shiny apples that are presented to each teacher at the beginning of the school year. This "kind gesture" is an example of the sneaky things Student Council members do, to fake the teachers out.

Howdy Week is an annual activity sponsored by the council. Students are urged to be particularly friendly to new sophomores and are given "howdy tags" to remind them. David Newell and Dana Siegle were crowned Mr. and Miss Howdy out of the entire junior class, during the week of September 8-12.

Student Council Aims For Better Student Citizenship

New sophomores are registered for voter eligibility by energetic Student Council members. Committees are established to handle the officer elections for each class.

In connection with the football season, Student Council is inevitably and happily involved. Spirit is revitalized through Red and Gray Day, a mini-float contest and spirit posters, with such messages as "Beat the Hill." Telegrams to each competing football team create pride in our school and good feeling between both.

United Appeal and Toys for Tots are large drives, undertaken by the council to become community-wise involved. A turtle race, and a Junior Olympics are used to raise money for the United Appeal and a powderpuff basketball game, between junior and senior girls, attracts spectators with toys, for the Toys for Tots Drive.

Visitation Day, Convention Top Council Activities

Industrious and enthusiastic members of the National Forensic League begin work, even before the school term begins, by launching a pop-bottle drive. Next on their agenda of fund-raising activities is the Christmas card sale. These and other similar projects are used to finance the numerous tournaments participated in by N.F.L. members.

To be eligible for membership in N. F. L., students must have 25 points accumulated through participation in debate, oratory, extemporaneous and After-Dinner Speaking. A student is allowed to enter three events and can qualify for regional contest by first, second or third at a qualifying tournament.

President, Kent Isabel, states, "Members of N. F. L. are extremely proud of their club; it is one which is not easy to join. Long hours of hard work go into the process but the result is invaluable. That reward is confidence."

"Scarecrow" Rates First In State For Thespians

Selling license plates is one of the first activities undertaken by the Thespians. The orders are taken and plates delivered to raise money for various functions throughout the year. The Thespians sponsor a Christmas party and also an initiation, which formally inducts new members into the club.

Those Thespians who are a part of the Play Productions class prepare and participate in a roadshow version of their contest play, "The Scarecrow" which they travel with to several elementary schools in the surrounding area. The small children are delighted with the bright costumes and make-believe characters and often the cast is asked to return with the play.

The Thespian royalty consists of a king and queen, crowned in February. The Best Thespian Award is given to the student who most ably portrays the qualities of dedication and service.

Devoted Staff Works To "tell it like it is" In 1970!

"We have a deadline in two weeks; you had better get your pictures taken for your sections!" This is a cry often heard from Barbara Pritchard, this year's yearbook editor-in-chief.

The yearbook class begins work early in the year to reach the first deadline in October. Class pictures are taken, catching the kids at their best, and many others are snapped when the "victim" least expects it. Copy editors assist section editors by writing copy, cutlines, headlines, and editing. This gives the section editors more time to work on layouts and pictures.

Having an informal atmosphere, the yearbook class is repeatedly told by their advisor, Mrs. Mary J. Sparks, to stay inside the room and keep the noise down to a quiet roar.

Because original ideas for layouts and planning pictures are needed, endless time is involved. All the nerve-wrecking work and time spent after school is worthwhile when the final product comes in May—THE GENERAL.

When an innocent passer-by happens to walk absent-mindedly into the newspaper class, he is apt to see a sight he will never forget. In one corner of the room feature page writers, Holly Hughs and Linda Letchworth are seen trying to read a holiday poem. Syndy Evans might be seen in the back room working on her page's paste-up. And still another staff member queries, "What is Mr. Barlow's first name?"

Despite all of the noise and confusion, the "newspaper people" manage to publish a bi-monthly school newspaper—The Grant Dispatch.

Getting facts for stories is not always easy. Club sponsors are searched for in vain by exhausted staff members who need information on that club's activities.

The telephone is constantly ringing, for people call, wishing to have ads placed in the paper. Advertising manager Leland Easter must make and receive calls, then fit the ads into the fourth page layout.

The Grant Dispatch is available to all students for fifteen cents or is included in the price of a journalism package.

Chicago Provides Excitement For Journalism Students

Spending Thanksgiving holiday in Chicago, Illinois would be quite a bit more exciting than being at home visiting with Great-Aunt Mabel, or so thought nineteen journalism students and Mrs. Mary Jewel Sparks. They boarded a Santa Fe passenger train on Wednesday, November 26, and headed toward the north.

Grant students shared a car with students from Blackwell and Ponca City during the eighteen hour trip to Chicago.

NSPA headquarters was the Palmer House Hotel in downtown Chicago. Besides attending sessions held in the hotel, the students toured Old Town, visited the Prudential Building, rode subways and just went sightseeing around the downtown area.

Novelties such as Paul Bunyan "giant" Coolies, eating gourmet food at Trader Vics, and meeting Jack Benny in person were a part of the excitement.

The whole tired bunch arrived home in OKC on Sunday, the morning of the 30th.

FBLA Sells Nightshirts To Attend Convention

Football Homecoming doesn't just appear, but is the work of many organizations. FBLA took on the responsibility of selling mums, and producing a Homecoming Dance for football homecoming. Many fund raising projects are taken up by FBLA to provide for the expense of convention and at the same time, promote school spirit.

The organization gained state and national recognition with the election of Bob Watts as State President and National Vice-President.

Buster Savage serves as president of the Grant chapter of Future Business Leaders of America. He, the sponsors, Mr. Al Fuller, Mrs. Dorothy Dean, Mrs. Ann Condren, and the club members make arrangements for the candy sales, the convention trips, and the annual semi-formal dance.

A trip to Philadelphia in June is the goal of the active club members, for it is the site of the 1970 National Convention. During the tour Washington, D.C. will "come alive" as the Okies invade the capitol city.

Members of our Future Teachers of America began the school year by hosting a weiner roast and hayride at "Pleasurama Acres." Huge tree swings and the musty hay flew haphazardly through the air all night long.

Ten delegates attended the FTA fall conference at the University of Oklahoma, in November, rounding up the clubs fall activities.

Service projects and money raising projects of FTA include the tutoring of small children, ages three to eight, at a day-care center, once per week, the selling of Christmas cards and the performance of the "Renaissance."

Club members got a chance to sample new recipes and eat the all-time favorite, fried chicken, at the FTA covered dish dinner. The dinner was held at the school cafeteria.

Talent And Ability Are Illustrated By Music Dept.

In early fall, band members constantly complain of sore and swollen feet, acquired daily from marching practice, in their attempt to perfect their formations.

The majorettes, a considerable part of the appearance of the band, received a first place rating, after twirling before large crowds on FAIR DAY. They, along with the rest of the band, contested in the activities of many other competitive events, including the Norman Marching Contest, OU Band Day, and district and state contests.

Band Homecoming is the Band's opportunity to introduce their royalty to the community. 1969-70 band queen is Debbie Todd. Her attendants are seniors, Vicki Wilks, Jean Harlin, and Louise Loper. These girls were introduced at halftime during a brilliant marching performance by the "Pride of U. S. Grant." Drum major, Roger Higgins, crowned the 69-70 band queen.

Each year the band sponsors a spaghetti supper, with proceeds going toward new uniforms and instruments. Eight hundred dollars was collected this year, the expenditure of which can be heard and seen in the beauty of the Generals' Band.

"Ruth" Is Presented To Students For Yuletide Program

"Contest time again! You kids get busy!" This must be the favorite saying of Mr. Ray Ballew, the choir director. Television appearances and numerous music contests induce a feeling of excitement into each of the members as performance time draws near.

Some of the dedicated members won awards at the "National Audition of Teachers of Singing" contest. These winners were Bonnie Ballard, David Bell, and Joe Smithers.

Many small groups compose our General's singing. Some of these groups are the Girl's Trio, the Sextette, and the Mixed Quartet. The Girl's Glee Club, Boy's Glee Club, and the Acapello Choir are several times larger than these small groups but the force of each can be heard and felt when a Christmas or Easter assembly is performed by our choir.

The choir attends Edmond, Pawnee, district and state music contests each year. As usual, the Generals made an admirable reputation for themselves at each of these contests.

A three-act play entitled "Ask Any Girl" is the Thespian's main production of the year. The play is taken from Christopher Sergel's adaptation of the book, written by Winifred Wolfe.

The play involves Meg Wheeler, a young girl of twenty, who has spent her entire life in a small town. After attending an all-girl college within walking distance from her home, Meg decides to move to glamorous New York City. There she plans to seek a new life, a new job, and a new love. Why? Ask Any Girl!

Two performances of the play were given. A matinee, March 12, and the evening performance on March 13, offered both students and parents a chance to view the play.

The General's Revue was held on April 18. Although held annually, the abundance of talent proved to be one of the best yet. The performances ranged from folk song duets to piano solos and modern dance. Also included were club and homeroom participation.

"We love you Generals; oh yes, we do . . ." Six hundred and forty-eight voices are heard, proudly singing this pledge to the Generals' teams. Sophomores, juniors, and seniors compose the unity of one very powerful, loyal, and spirited group, the Sabrettes Pep Club.

Numerous activities highlight the year as a pep club member. The Ice Cream Social, tryouts, announcement of next year's officers and cheerleaders, the Sweetheart Dance, "A Time for Us," all of these are the formal, organized happenings of the club. These are not the things which are remembered, however. Girls remember the first time and the last time they wore their uniforms of red and gray. Tears of joy and disappointment seem to leave a small trace on their cheeks as they recall the excitement of games, whether victory or defeat. Competition between rival pep clubs leaves distant voices echoing in their minds as club members remember the Southeast and Capital Hill games.

The years will pass, and these girls will leave Grant and involve themselves in "Tomorrow," but where they go, how they strive, they'll be "true to thee, Grant High."

Good Sportsmanship And Better Ethics Practiced By FCA

Members of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes are entertained by noted speakers of athletic stature at most of their meetings. Other forms of entertainment were films such as, "The Christian Athlete and Sex."

John Westbrook, a member of the national FCA staff, was the main speaker at the FCA state convention held in October at Norman. University of Oklahoma football players, Steve Zabel and Jack Mildren, and OU wrestling coach Tommy Evans also addressed the group.

At the February FCA meeting, Clendon Thomas, OU, all-American football star in 1956-57, and later a pro on the Los Angeles Rams and Pittsburg Steelers football teams, was the orator.

Filmed highlights of the Big Eight Conference of 1968 were also viewed by FCA members.

This year, the O'Club is combined with FCA, with Mr. Jack Everhart serving as sponsor.

On The Job Experience Is Obtained By DECA Students

"Gee, isn't that adorable?" "I want that!" These are only two of the thousands of remarks, coming from students as they pass the DECA showcases on their tour of the halls each morning. These displays contain such things as clothing, boys dress shoes, psychedelic posters and stuffed animals. DECA members arrange window displays in the halls, as training for their jobs.

In November, DECA members took a field trip to Dallas, Texas. There they visited the Apparel Mart, Neiman Marcus, and many other retail business "like it is."

At State DECA Conference in Oklahoma, City members participate in several contests such as, job interview, public speaking, merchandise mathematics, store layout, vocational notebooks, advertising, displays, and sales demonstration. Such contests arouse a great deal of interest in the competitor's work.

Vocational Instructions Are Offered To VICA Students

The biggest water fights in history usually take place during car washes for fund-raising purposes. VICA, partially composed of Cosmetology girls, held one of the largest water bashes ever. The pretty curls and elaborate hairdos vanished, not into thin air, but into moisture-laden air. The results of the project? Well, of course, a bundle of money, which aides the group in paying their way to National VICA Convention, held in St. Louis, Missouri, in June.

Boys from Vocational classes, another portion of the club, collect old newspapers and sell them in hopes of creating an abundance in the treasury.

Members become paper-boys and paper-girls when VICA takes the sale of subscriptions to the Capitol Hill Beacon in return for the publication of the club's news.

Guillotines, axing the heads of Spartans, won the fourth place prize for the French Club, in the Homecoming Mini-Float Contest. French Club constituents took full advantage of their artistic ability, in this effort to generate school spirit.

"New Orleans or Bust" is the challenge of the French Club members as they aim all funds towards a visit to the Mardi-Gras celebration. Colorful parades, with eye-catching floats and costumes, construct the annual French presentation.

The French Club's spring banquet was at "Jaques restaurant." There the group installed the 1970-71 club officers.

JCL Initiation Climaxed By Auctioning Of Slaves

Some people say that Latin is a "dead language" but they surely can't prove it by our Latin Club, formerly known as the Junior Classical League.

Many students are amazingly puzzled as they listen to a friend quoting Latin poems, essays, and orations. Christmas songs are given a special charm when Latin words are reverently chanted rather than our usual English language. Latin comes alive as JCL members hail Caesar on the date of his death.

The initiation is the final big event of the year for Latin Club members. The plebs (new members) are examined to see if their teeth are straight and if they are strong before the senators bid on them as slaves. The sales raise the funds for the club. A trip to the graveyard, and a look at Latin inscriptions on the tombstones determine the swiftness of the slaves, as they race an epitaph to their masters.

JCL State Planning Convention was held at U. Grant. Latin Club sponsor, Mrs. Brenda Sandler and State JCL President, Bill Nestlerode took care of the arrangements for a dance, dinner and olympics for the JCLers from all over the state.

Having a complete Mexican dinner at the Casa Bonita Restaurant and a Christmas Fiesta, in which everyone has a chance at the goodies in the pinata, are a part of the festivities in which members in the Spanish Club can participate.

The president of the club, Dick Moore doesn't call the meetings to order in the usual way. A hearty, "Buenas Dias," is sometimes heard when the meeting days are sunny and bright. The conversation of these students may not be in perfect Spanish grammatical form, but the meaning can be derived, most of the time.

One of the projects that was attempted this year by these club members was the making of maps of all Spanish-speaking countries. These colorful charts were displayed at PTSA Open House.

Students Given Opportunity Of Meaningful Discussion

The "cream of the crop" in mathematics makes up the members of the Math Club. Only students that have maintained a "B" average or higher in all math courses, and are presently enrolled in trigonometry or math analysis courses are eligible to join.

Mu Alpha Theta is continually working to achieve a higher level of interest in the mathematics field to help students enjoy their math. The math that these students study is quite a change from the grade school "arithmetic" problems that the classes used to solve on the blackboards.

Many of the members of the Mu Alpha Theta help other students by tutoring them in geometry and algebra.

"Grok is organized to give students an opportunity to have meaningful discussion on topics of today.

Many heated debates are heard as students find that their beliefs clash with the beliefs of others. Conclusions are not always met by the group, but the discussions do provide the group with voicing their opinions.

The word "grok" comes from Robert Heinlen's book, Stranger in a Stranger Land. The word means complete and total understanding.

Topics for discussion are sometimes taken from America Changing, a book of essays about current events.

Strategy And Concentration

Learning to assemble a rocket according to the safety code set up by the club, is only half of the fun in belonging to the Rocket Society. Each member not only builds their own rockets, but are also instructed in how to launch them successfully.

The club meets twice every month to experiment in actual launches and engage in research about rocket design and testing. The society is working on acquiring a movie camera to place in the nose cone of the rockets.

Rocket Society members seated are: Ray Schmoldt, Bill Cowden, Mike Webber, Ricky Ingram, Chip Eeds. The standing are: Sponsor, Mr. Ron Cable, Robert Williamson, Randy Sarrington.

While the familiar game of chess has been a favorite pastime for many of us, not until this year did we have a chance to carry our interest in the game to school.

Interested chess club members not only practice the game in Mr. Ron Cable's room every Thursday, but also plan strategy at home for new angles and plays.

Mr. Ron Cable and Mr. Clifton Ogle sponsor the club and are often competitors in the intense concentration of the games. They, as well as the members, feel that chess is a very worth while game.

"Checkmate" is the goal of these students, as they strive to corner one another's kings. No matter whether they win or lose, the students learn to concentrate their efforts on one thing.

Competition in science fairs across the nation is one of the major concerns of our J. E. T. S. or as formerly known, Science Club. The J. E. T. S. originated from the Junior Engineering Technological Society and is also affiliated with the Science Clubs of America.

Numerous trips, and entries to fairs such as NASA, Eisen and Westinghouse are made by the club during the year.

A meeting is held every other Thursday to work on projects for competitive events. The prize-winning projects must be given many hours of hard work and attention in order to surpass all entries from the other states.

Bryan Hudson, president of the club, works hand in hand with the sponsor, Mr. Clifton Ogle to make available the equipment needed for projects.

These are just a few of the things spoken and sung by delegates attending Oklahoma Girls' State and Oklahoma Boys' State, as the week slowly progresses. Each year, delegates are selected from every school in the state to represent them at the respective states. This year Sue McDougal, Debi Bynum, Terry Price, Charles Babb, and Greg Mooney represented our school, according to their academic abilities, citizenship and leadership ability.

National Merit Scholarship finalists, Susan Hollars, Don Clothier, and Stephanie Kienholtz, really "blew their minds" taking many tests to determine their academic ability. The price was well worth it though, when many scholarships began to "pop into their mailboxes."

Howdy! This Is Grant — A "General" Experience!

Howdy ... it's 1970 ... September third ... sophomores can be seen stumbling through throngs of people searching for a familiar face ... juniors are secure in the thought of no longer belonging to the sophomore class ... with no higher goal to reach in high school, seniors are content with being the best.

Preparations begin early ... organizations elect officers ... committees are appointed ... eagerly planning how each can make their contribution to the "Year of the Generals!"

Spirit ran high ... enthusiasm was evident ... "Howdy" rang throughout the halls ... an ice breaker and invitation for each to unite as one ... Generals!

What new problems lie ahead of me ... Will I be able to adjust to a completely new way of life ... What will America be like?

These are just a few questions ... racing through Yasmin Ahmad Merican's mind ... as she boards a Philippines Airlines jet bound for Oklahoma, U.S.A.

Looking back at her arrival ... Yasmin says quietly ... "On the way home with my new family everything was so still and quiet, I ashamedly began to regret I had come. I was so afraid."

She now says the things she likes best ... "are the people. They all seem interested in me. I began to feel very much at home, as if I really belonged."

Yasmin ... elected honorary football attendant ... favorite of the Generals ... and she was shown off November 7 ... homecoming.

Yasmin's favorite hang-up ... Grant. "I really like Grant." We believe the "General" agreement is ... We like you, too, Yasmin."

Here junior, Mary Reames persuades Terry Casey to buy a ticket to the Junior Class Play, "Harvey." FAR RIGHT: "We are the pep crew, we yell and cheer for you ..." all girls enjoy one of their favorite pastimes—supporting the Generals.

Spirit ... faith in our school ... for the athletes it can be the difference in determining a victory or loss.

We see spirit in the halls at school ... at the first football game ... the last one. During worthwhile money raising drives ... working untiringly at being Generals ... as best we can.

We hear spirit ... the brave but trembling voices of the sophomore class ... the tremendous boom of the senior class ... voices of anticipation as juniors work on the prom ... their chance to show the seniors their ability ... and appreciation.

We feel spirit ... Alma Mater takes a special meaning ... especially to seniors ... with the realization of a conclusion to many things. Still yelling at the top of our lungs after a defeat ... nothing destroys our confidence in our ability ... pride in belonging ... pleasure in participation ... devotion to our school.

We Live In Our Thoughts Expression Of Our Soul

We sit solely with our own special thoughts ... dreaming ... a state of mind that sneaks up and captures undivided attention.

We think ... alone ... two together ... or in the midst of many people. Our thoughts belong to us ... establishing our character ... developing our personality ... creating our goals ... of the future ... of now. Graduation ... our shadowy future ... searching our mind for an interesting idea ... profession to occupy our life.

We attend classes ... develop vocabulary ... learn formulas ... express ourselves ... increase our knowledge ... learning from our accomplishments or mistakes.

We explore our minds and abilities ... looking for a purpose ... and find it in our thoughts.

ABOVE: Our thoughts are as one as we pay homage to our country's heritage while we look ahead to the future.

Time For Our Generation

For too long the headline makers in the hot city streets ... brawlers on the campuses ... have spoken for American youth. Their voice is as old as Man's stories.

Now ... all over America, there is a rising up of a generation ... it believes first of all in the future. They believe ... as the older generation has ... in working long hours, moving fast, living straight, speaking out ... shouting for liberty.

In this century ... man is moving faster ... communicating better ... living richer than any other generation before.

We hear so much about the generation gap ... the gap is a wide one which has been bridged with a footpath of understanding.

Most kids of today do not protest what the world is ... but what it is becoming ... it does need improving ... it always has ... always will. No one will reach perfection ... but ... if perfection is our ultimate goal ... how can we loose?

An aptitude for teamwork ... working together ... to attain recognition as a group. The football team ... struggling to insure a successful season ... baking in summer practices in late August.

A Last Hard Look Back

It finally comes ... a Senior year ... a time to lead the Generals ... preside in organizations ... order announcements ... turn classrings around ... be fitted for graduation gowns ... and practice, practice, practice.

It took so long to get here ... and then it slipped away. We were too busy decorating the blankness with anticipation for tomorrow.

One last look around ... the gymnasium ... on Baccalaureate Sunday ... flowers seem so odd ... being conditioned to the smell of hot bodies after a basketball game. The lonesome halls ... sheltering no one from the summer sunshine ... hold only memories. The cannon ... usually painted in a vain attempt to dampen our spirits.

The hurt in the spring ... promising sophomores and juniors ... "next year will be best!" Relinquishing control to new officers ... leaving our spot in the lime-light for someone else ... being shoved aside in the spring ... we willingly graduate.

Memories of Senior year ... dear to some ... who worked to make it great. In years to come we will think back ... trying to grasp a small portion ... and make it live. But for now ... we are too busy saying goodbye.

Accompanying Every Honor Is An Equal Responsibility

Finishing touches are made ... the alarm goes off earlier ... dresses are given a last pressing with a cool iron ... tuxedos are examined carefully ... breakfast neglected because of a nervous stomach instead of a late schedule ... a moment of recognition after twelve years of perpetual work ... this is January eighth.

Knocking knees are hidden under yards of velvet and Egyptian silk ... shaking hands are revealed by wriggling nosgays ... the boys hide nervous habits beneath strong character and pride.

Careful Planning Wrapped Up In Ten Minute Half Time

The game begins ... something is different ... a larger percent of girls come with boys ... simple white tissues twisted, turned, painted and stuffed until they become attractive ... are mounted on a huge platform ... a plush red chair ... an inescapable atmosphere of happiness and excitement ... an extra portion of spirit and pride ... it is homecoming.

For the lucky attendants the first half of the game ticks away slowly ... after days of preparing ... planning their appearance to the Nth degree ... they step into the gown, so carefully searched for.

Then comes the time ... the buzzer sounds ... the behavior of the players change from their exuberate efforts to a slow pace ... the noisy gym changes into a show floor for formals ... special hair care ... and pretty girls. For a few moments ... the hustle and bustle of the game gives in to a dignified half time.

All these things make up a homecoming ... alumni return to experience the present state of their old school ... seniors sing alma mater ... it makes us prouder to take a part of Grant and travel to other schools ... because we know what we get to come home to.

Coach Virgil Milliron Fills Position As Athletic Head

The Generals kicked off their athletic program in mid-August as the football team began practice under new Head Coach Charles Carpenter.

Late summer also marked the beginning of torrid workouts for the rough schedule of grinding meets ahead. Coach John Hill's harriers took a new place in the state rankings—tenth. Admittedly off par for our cross-country team, but the spirit and competitiveness was there again.

Coach Virgil Milliron's troops were hatted by injuries and lack of a heavyweight wrestler.

The roundballers were hampered by lack of height and experience.

Coach Walker's swim team placed second in the city tournament and posted a 9-1 dual record.

The baseball team began practicing, another winning season, early February under second year coach Russell Higbie.

The golf and tennis teams improved with many returning lettermen. The track team also pulled off another high rank in the state meet.

Enthusiastic cheerleaders, officers and pep club members, a loud, soulful band and a group of the fighting, "never-say-die" football "guys." This is the General's formula for one of the most meaningful, if not the most successful, seasons in their history. And this season is the one.

Several outstanding individuals achieved honors for the Generals. Danny Moen, Asa Bradley and Mike Cossey were named All Conference players. Moen was also named for the All City team. A tie for seventh place conference rank was given to Grant at the close of the season.

When asked for the biggest disappointment of the season, Head Coach Charles Carpenter replied, "I guess losing the other six games was the hardest upset to swallow."

For seniors, this season is the best of all football seasons of their three years at Grant. It is a season of penalties, injuries and tears, but it is also a season of victories. The football "guys" play the best, never stopping to mourn defeats, always fighting—pushing—proving that Generals are Best!

Grant Wins Two In A Row Over Arch Enemy Capital Hi

Grant rolled to their second consecutive win over arch-rival Capital Hill, 39-6, through the thunder of senior quarterback Leland Easter and senior tailback Asa Bradley. The Generals began the 39-point storm on the opening kickoff as Mike Cossey booted a successful field goal from 28 yards out. On the ensuing kickoff, a Hill fumble resulted in an Easter to Bobby Sheppard 31 yard touchdown pass.

The second quarter belonged to Grants tailback. Following an unsuccessful Redskin attempt to put points on the scoreboard, a pitchout from Easter resulted in a Bradley 22 yard sprint and 6 more points for the Generals. Then Bradley upped the score to 25-0 on a 1 yard touchdown plunge to end the first half.

During the second half quarterback Easter added the two final tallies for his team by capping a drive with a 1 yard dive to pay dirt and a 2 point conversion pass to Joe Haney. To end the one-sided salvo, the remarkable Easter thrust into the end zone on a five yard scoring trek and rounded the score to 39-6.

Midwest City Takes Grant But Not Without A Fight

The U. S. Grant Generals had a tough job to perform at Rose Field on October 24, 1969. They were scheduled to oppose the top-ranked Bombers who were going to grind the Generals in defeat. The Generals were out to show the capacity crowd that they were indeed going to fight. A Bomber score on the opening kick-off and a Mike Cossey touchdown four plays later convinced the fans that they were indeed in for a good game, if not for an upset.

Moments later, Midwest City struck again only to have Bobby Shephard take the ensuing kick-off and dash 59 yards to the Grant 25 yardline. From there, alert senior quarterback Leland Easter hit the bull's eye and Shephard took the 25 yard touchdown pass to end the first half with a score of 14-12 in the Bombers favor.

The second half proved to be branded "Bombers Property" as an awesome ground attack put a tight cap on all other scoring attempts by the Generals. Morale and good sportsmanship were the essence of our Generals during the last half as they contained the amazing Bomber offense to 20 points and the closing score of 34-12.

John Marshall's Tough Defense Overcomes Grant

A mighty Paul Erwin 70 yard jaunt on the first play from scrimmage touched off what was to be a surprising 19-9 victory over the Generals for the John Marshall Bears.

The Bears upped the talley to 12-0 during the second quarter with a 14 yard burst by Ron Waters. Just before the end of the half, Grant mounted a scoring drive as senior quarterback Leland Easter hit split end Dennis Whalen. Whalen then lateraled the ball to Bobby Shephard who moved to the ten. Mike Cossey, senior fullback, seemingly trapped for a loss on a draw play, burst up the middle to score the touchdown. An unsuccessful extra point attempt left the score at 12-6 at the end of the first half.

The third quarter was a "General" quarter. Grant dominated the action taking the initial kick-off and driving to the Marshall 17 yard line before giving up the ball. Senior linebacker Charlie Babb intercepted a Bear pass three plays later and returned the ball 13 yards to set up a Larry Austin 28 yard field goal to change the reading to 12-9.

But the game was put out of reach as Waters took a Craig Tucker pass 35 yards down field for the touchdown and a completed point attempt ended the scoring at 19-9.

Generals Fall To Porter-Led Spartan Offense

All-Stater quarterback Darrel Porter proved to be a great asset for the Spartans in their 26-13 victory over the Generals.

A scoreless first quarter gave an illusion of inactivity but in reality the Generals were being severely tested by a tricky Spartan defense which kept them deep in their own territory.

Porter began the second quarter scoring by a sprint around left end and 6 points; the extra point attempt failed. Grant rallied with recovered fumble and sneaked ahead 7-6, but not for long. Stunned General fans and players gasped as Porter took the kick-off to set up a second play touchdown.

A scoreless third quarter followed. Then the Spartans grabbed a lucky interception and 6 points to further discourage Grant; a Porter passing bomb added another 6. But the Generals fighting spirit refused to die. Quarterback Leland Easter staged one last valiant try and ended the scoring with 6 hard won General points.

Pride Brings Little Generals A Successful 8-2 Season

The B squad football team finished its season with eight wins and two losses.

Under the direction of coaches Don Archer and Bob Wooden the team began their fine season by ending their first opponents, Del City 22-0. The offensively strong team slipped past John Marshall 10-0 with the defense scoring the last two winning points of the game.

The offensive unit also showed its ability to score points as they monopolized the field completing the season with a victory over Southeast, 44-12 permitting Southeast to score only in the last quarter. The team consists of sophomores and juniors who will make the varsity team next year.

The offensive unit was led by tailback Kenny Flanken, a sophomore who led the team in scoring. With the spirit and dedication shown this year, the Generals have a bright outlook.

Coach Metheny Rebuilds And Reshapes Complete New Unit

Ask starters Danny Moen, Steve Rowland, Gene Lewellen, Dubby McElvany or Ken Flaniken what happiness is, and they'll probably tell you it's getting a pat on the back, a smile, or a "well done" from basketball coach Don Metheny. Coach Metheny has had many opportunities to be happy this season as he has watched his boys take to the court and perform their best through every game.

This basketball season is one characterized by hard work and the ever difficult task of rebuilding and reshaping a new team. Last year's starters were all graduates, leaving Coach Metheny the responsibility of forming a new unit, one which must contain players with the ability to work together devotedly as a team. Seniors Moen, Rowland, Tommy Herron, and Leland Easter who worked with the graduating starters, are serving to provide the necessary advantage of experience.

Senior Steve Rowland is one of Grant's most valuable assets this season. The lanky senior has recovered the most rebounds, is the high point man, and is serving as center for the spirited General roundballers.

Roundballers Strive With A Prayer For Confidence

Determination is a word many men boast, but few possess. It is a characteristic which involves great spirit, resolve and a binding decision to "do your best." This is a quality that the Generals wish to acclaim in their basketball players.

A year of rebuilding is usually a year of disappointment. So, with a few exceptions, is this season for the Generals. Games come and go, with heart-breaking defeats. Many tears have been choked back, by fans and players alike. The mighty Generals understand what it means to bite the dust. But "giving up" is a phrase not in their vocabulary. They fall but continue to rise, refreshed in the faith that their time will come. They rise with the resolve to practice longer and fight harder. They strive always with a prayer for confidence, quality and good sportsmanship. Tremendous spirit and energy characterize the reputation that follows the General's basketball team wherever they go.

Better Shooters And More Ability Apparent In B Team

To learn the basic fundamentals of the game and to gain practical experience are two good reasons why sophomores participate in junior varsity basketball. The desire to beat last year's season record adds extra incentive for the new Generals.

The B team is being led in scoring by Richie Reyes and Ken Nelson, with most of their rebounding power originating from Glen Gottschalk and Bobby Sifers. Bobby Harrison is providing some "show" for General fans with his fine outside shooting.

John Marshall was the first to defeat the Generals and since the game, several injuries have plagued the team. But with the encouragement of Coach Don Archer, the boys are learning to gain experience from misfortune.

Head Basketball Coach Don Metheny has this to say, "This year's sophomores are better shooters and have more ability than sophomores of the past. We look forward to having a fine team in the future."

Generals Boast Potent Brother Team With Charlie And Everett

The General matmen had their problems this year but still managed to turn in another strong performance. Few teams could be plagued by injuries and lack of competition at the heavier weights and still place as high as our grapplers did.

Grant boasted a potent brother act with Charlie and Everett Gomez, Charlie at 98 pounds and Everett at 106. Charlie did an outstanding job as a sophomore, and Everett turned out one of the states best records at 23-0. Everett was city, conference, and regional champion. He also won the tourney title at Geary.

Jim Blackmon, at 115, was also rated in the state's upper echelon. Jim, along with Everett, was rated at the top of the Oklahoma Journal's wrestling ratings at 115.

Billy Snipes and Harry Boydston handled 123 very capably. Snipes was forced to wrestle at 130 in addition to 123 because of injuries to David Norvell and Don Gibson. With these injuries Coach Milliron was forced to move his men up a weight.

Shannon Roberson fashioned a 7-4 record at 130, 136, and 141. Ron Ritter won titles at the City Mid State and Regionals in route to a 18-2-1 record before the state tourney.

Dan Gonzales at 157 and Ricky Little at 168 rounded out the lineup for the Generals. When the wrestlers at the lower weight were healthy, Gonzales would compete at 168 and Little at 178.

A person may be a capable wrestler, but that doesn't necessarily mean that he will succeed. Something, or someone must spur a wrestler and give him the motivation and the will to win. Coach Virgil Milliron sparks our wrestlers with this power, through his dedication and drive.

-Team Wrestlers Win Despite Lack Of Maximum Lineup

The B-team repeatedly shows real talent for the Generals. This year was no different. Coach Harold Crosley and the sophomores and juniors which compose the team show progressive improvement match after match. Many of the members enable themselves the chance to wrestle varsity. When wrestling is at top quality, like it is at Grant, this achievement is a difficult challenge.

The team was never at a maximum lineup of twelve but most of the time wrestled with only nine weights. Suprisingly enough one can not prove this gap by the scores.

B-team wrestlers are given the opportunity each week to meet the varsity wrestlers at their weights in competition to determine who will wrestle varsity in the next match.

The B-teamers are the future varsity men for our wrestling squad. With the spirited competition, it appears Grant will ascend to top again.

FAR ABOVE: Buster Savage, Ken Clampitt and Charles Fedunak are in the setting blocks competing for a place on the mile relay team.

Humility Is Proudly Abundant In General Champions

If confidence is characteristic of Grant's track team, it's due to a line-up like this one:

440 Relay—Ken Clampitt, Buster Savage, Tom Green, and Dennis Doke; 880—Bob Watts, Ricky Carpenter; High hurdles—Green; 440—Doke, Clampitt; Low hurdles—Green, Doke; Two mile—Dennis Smith; Mile—Lindsley; Mile relay—Watts, Green, Doke, and Lindsley, Clampitt, or Fedunak; Shot put—Jerry Lowder; Discus—Mike Antrikin; Pole Vault—Randy Campbell; High jump—Terry Flowers; Broad jump—Fedunak, Earl Perkins.

Coach John Hill is plainly proud of his team this season. The pride shows in his face and on the big cardboard record of accomplishments of his boys that hangs by his chair in the coaches office.

Along with true confidence comes humility, which is found in abundance in these champions from U. S. Grant.

Confidence — Keynote Description Of General Trackme

"Grant's Track team?—the best in the state!"

Who said that? Wouldn't you know? It's Don Lindsley. But ask anyone and they'll tell you the same. The Generals are hard to beat! Especially the General Track team.

Confidence seems to be the keynote description and vital code of the track members this season. They practice long, hard hours every day after school on their individual specialities to prove time and again that practice does make perfect. This quality presents itself clearly in another of Lindsley's musings, "The whole team has vowed to better the last two years of second in state. I feel we will." Just like that, so calmly, and with reason. If Grant's track team of one and two years ago can grab a second place trophy at State, why not a first place this year? Under a dedicated coach like John Hill—anything is possible.

Seniors Watts And Lindsley Lead Field Of Roadrunners

What better way to open a new season than to secure a third place title? Right? Grant's cross country runners shout, "You bet!" In late August the Generals proved that they indeed were there and there to win. The event—Sequoyah Invitational in Talequah. Don Lindsley secured the individual title, Bob Watts was third and Steve Turner was thirteenth in the field of 86 runners.

The Tulsa Edison meet yielded Lindsley a second place and Watts a fourth. Next, Gerald Tomlinson, Dennis Doke, Bob Watts, Jerry Killman, and Don Lindsley ran six miles to a fourth place rank at the fairground relays. Lindsley and Watts brought further glories to Grant with second and fourth place awards from the Norman Invitational.

The Generals continued to shine and Mid-State competition procured a second place for Lindsley, fifth for Watts and sixteenth for Turner. At All City, Lindsley and Watts brought home second and fourth place rankings. Finally at State, seniors Bob Watts secured sixth place and Don Lindsley fought sickness to tackle fifteenth place. The Generals say—Thank you to our runners.

Determined Wills Wrap Up An 11-1 Record For Swimmers

An enthusiastic team with pride and dedication is what every coach works for and dreams about. For swimming coach, Gary Walker, this dream is coming true.

Coach Walker's confident manner of teaching, teamed up with a broad, easy grin, is inspiring General swimmers to one of their most victorious seasons, but success is not to the coach's glory alone. Devoted, hard working boys with determined wills to win are what wrapped up a second place All City trophy and a fourth place ranking in Mid State Conference competition. The high point individual on the team is senior swimmer Cliff Cato, who has accumulated over 200 points for the Generals.

This year's team is a young one with Stan Perkins, David Peck, Kenneth Black, Bobby Mitchell and John Chaney, all returning. With only two graduating seniors, Grant swimmers are hopeful for a successful future.

Practice is one of the major reasons for the team's success this year. Every day after school the swimmers meet at the Y.M.C.A. to perfect their techniques.

Jerry Alexander And Jay Amos Fight For Top Position

Mix a young, enthusiastic group of boys and an optimistic coach and the results are usually unbeatable. This is how the Generals are beginning to feel about their tennis team.

Coach Craig Miller, in his second year as Grant tennis coach, is busy building and reshaping his team to meet such stiff competition as Midwest City, one of the best teams in the state. Seniors Robert Miller, Ken Chestnut and Ed Baker are providing the needed experience to launch a successful season.

Junior Jay Amos in the number one position last year, is competing for that position during the 1970 season with sophomore Jerry Alexander, who placed third in the state as a freshman in junior high school competition. These and other factors provide excitement for all General tennis fans.

Last Year's Tally Challenges '70 General Golfers

"Fore!" The answer to a multiplication problem? A number after three? A bowling score? No, it's Max Blumenthal warming up in practice for the upcoming golf match with Midwest City.

Golf Coach Jack Everhart is beginning early this year, getting his boys ready to meet some of the stiffest competition in the state—teams like Shawnee, Putnam City, and rival John Marshall. The boys practice long hours on the golf course, teaming up against fellow team members to give them the feeling of a real tournament.

This year's team consists of three seniors and seven freshmen and sophomores. To start the General's line-up for this season are seniors Max Blumenthal, Charlie Clay and Gary Gleaves.

Grant's golfers had a ready-made goal set before them when they started. Last year's team chalked up an impressive seasonal record of 7-7-2 and the 69-70. Generals are enjoying the attempt to over-step this tally.

Onward Generals!

Athletes Prepare For Baseball By Working As A Unit

"Not rain nor sleet, nor sleet, nor cold of night can stay our baseball players from their purpose. Coach Russel Higby is all slave-driver when it comes to preparing his team for baseball season. Practices start after school and usually continue until the sun sets and the ball can no longer be seen. But practice pays off—especially against a one-year old record of 14-7.

Ron Svetgoff and Ron Ratzlaff are the team's leading pitchers this year. Danny Moen and Rick Freeman are catching for the Generals, Alan Whitfield is at first and Mike Marcum is serving as short-stop.

Coach Higby has something valuable to give the boys who play on his team. He says, "Yes, it's nice to win, it's great, but I feel that if I can teach the players that they must work together, that no one man is more important than the unit as a whole, I've accomplished my purpose. So what if, at the end of the season, the record is all loses—if the guys have learned self-respect, confidence, and humility—that's what's important." Think about it!

Volleyball Intramurals Form Inter-School Competition

Homeroom intramurals stimulate classroom competition as well as help generate spirit throughout the student body.

The volleyball program homeroom championships were won by the determined girl's team from Mr. Ray Bellew's homeroom, and the boy's team from Mr. Gary Walker's homeroom. Morning workouts, practice for the championship games, were spent perfecting various game techniques.

This year, Mr. Jerry Rickerts, activities director, has taken the responsibility of sponsoring both the basketball and the volleyball intramural programs. Mr. Rickert's schedules the games, and with the help of student aides, keeps a win-loss record of the games. Certain limits are placed on participants. Anyone who letters in a sport is restricted.

Homeroom classes support their teams by shouting encouragement to players and applauding from the stands. Championship games give class members a chance to skip class and witness their team's closing game of the season.

Sports Interest Developed In Intramural Basketball

The basketball intramural program has grown since its organization. The value of competitive athletics to the all around health of Grant students is recognized, and is shown by the enthusiastic participation and support of the student body.

This extracurricular activity provides for involvement instead of just watching. The varsity athletes, especially those students who are unable to participate in competitive athletics, are restricted from intramural participation and serve as referees and scorekeepers.

Members of the feminine sex as well as masculine are given the opportunity to participate in intramurals, and prove their athletic ability and good sportsmanship.

Games are held mornings before school in the gym. Failure of a required number of team members to show up for a game results in a win by forfeit.

Homeroms are awarded team points which go toward a participation trophy given to the top three winning homeroms.

Years Of Searching Are At An End, The Future Is Our

"Class of '70"—just three words. To the outside they signify nothing, but to a senior, they hold a very warm and special meaning.

For a great number of seniors, "Class of '70" evokes, and in the years to come, will continue to evoke memories. This year unwillingly brings the last football game and stores the memories of icicle fingers, cheering crowds, hugs of joy, and biting tears of defeat for future musing. It recalls friendships especially sweetened by threats of termination, and vital education, acquired by strain over tiring books at late hours.

This senior year is one of endings; the end of being forced to do homework, the end of living at home, the end of high school. It is also a year of beginning; the beginning of responsibility, the beginning of freedom, the beginning of life. Graduation is the end of childhood and the beginning of adulthood.

This familiar cheer will ring up and down the abandoned corridors when school is out for the '69-'70 school year. "We're the best, as you can see; we're the Class of '70."

Juniors Are Headed By Newell In Preparing For Activities

After a year of being "low man on the totem pole," the juniors are glad to return to school in the fall. Just knowing they are not "lowly sophomores," makes the whole school atmosphere more pleasant to them.

The Junior Class Planning Committee, with David Newell as class president, plans the junior-senior prom. Proceeds from the Junior Class Play, Harvey, go toward financing the prom.

Receiving class rings is a memorable moment for juniors. The newness soon wears off though, and all of the comparing and showing-off ends.

The varsity teams have many junior members, and juniors make up half of the cheerleading squad and officers of various organizations.

Total involvement with school activities takes up all of the "free time" of juniors. They find themselves doing "everything" as they become dedicated workers for school projects.

Finally, with anticipation of next year as SENIORS, the junior class patiently waits until they are the "best" class in the school.

The junior class officers are: President, David Newell, Vice President, Donna McGhee, Secretary, Debbie Edinburg, Treasurer, Diane Boydston, Parliamentarian, Jerri Edwards, Reporter, Paula Montgomery, Kathy Brewer, Vicki McCullah, Dave Marshall, Barbara Jefferson and Jean Yarberry make up the Representatives-at-Large. The junior English classes picked their representatives as being: Steve Fraser, Diane Wilkes, Donna Rash, Roberta Kaster, Kathe Wells, Debbie Matchen, Vicki Mikeman, Danny Andrews, Mary Reames, Gina Calame, Bobbi Bagwell, Pat Maloy, Kathy Denton and Tina Nolting.

"Golly, what a big place—how are we ever gonna find our way around?" "Boy, are those upper-classmen stuck-up!" These are familiar sentiments voiced among members of the sophomore class.

High school life is quite a change from that of junior high. Running for class offices, attending planning committee meetings, and discovering new friends, are part of the excitement that comes with attending a big, strange high school for the first time.

Being a part of the large, well-organized, pep club is thrilling for sophomore girls. It is a new experience for them to yell, "GENERALS are the best."

Both boys and girls turn that "magic age" of sixteen during their sophomore year and receive their drivers licenses, loosening them from such tight bonds with home and family. With their drivers licenses comes their first trip to ACROSS THE STREET RESTAURANT. At this time, entrance into the "Street" is a little bit scary, but the uneasiness soon wears off, and everyone has a good time.

Editor's Note . . .

Another year has passed. All of the fun at football games, the homecomings, the club meetings and even the classes are now only memories. I hope, that in this book, the staff and I have recorded, successfully, all of the memories of this year with 2,458 pictures and 244 blocks of copy and cutlines.

My deepest appreciation goes to the '70 GENERAL staff for all their long hours of work and their determination to produce a book that will be remembered as a recorder for the year of 1969-1970. The constant help of our sponsor, Mrs. Mary J. Sparks, is also greatly appreciated, for without her help and patience our book would never be as great as it is. Also, tremendous thanks go to Mrs. Lou Carroll, our representative from Taylor Publishing Company and Mr. Joe Henson, from Rembrandt Studios.

Now, it is time to thank the people who made this yearbook possible, the student body and the faculty. You did all of the work and fulfilled all the duties in running a high school, we just simply recorded all you've done.

This book is just one year of our lives. It is published to help us remember all the memories of this one year. Our lives will go on and on and so on . . .

Barbara Pritchard

One last look
A long, hard look
Because never again
Can we go back to our high school days
Our lives must go on and on and so on . . .
